

USB Storage Device Addendum

USB Storage Devices

To protect company data and systems, USB storage devices (such as flash drives, external hard drives, and other removable media) may not be connected to or used on company equipment without prior authorization from IT.

Employees must obtain approval before using any USB storage device for business purposes. Unauthorized use may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.